

The FANNING MILL

by Frank Farrington

JUST A COUPLE of words here today in the way of a suggestion for Sunday . . . Drive out to the new Tyrol Ski Tow near Avon (Highway 52 west has signs directing you) and look over what this column is told is the best site for slalom and downhill skiing in the whole Upper Midwest. . .

If the hill and area out there is so well suited for skiing it must be good for just looking too . . . And the grand opening is set for Sunday . . .

The Dean brothers who are operating tows at this hill near Avon are not splurging at the start, until they learn how well the sport takes hold here . . . They emphasize that you shouldn't expect a second Sun Valiey, but just good slopes and tows. . . .

At the same time they are so enthusiastic about skiing possibilities here that they are willing to invest fairly heavily. . . .

Because of good snow conditions, an ideal hill and their tow they expect quite a few skiers up from the Twin Cities and they believe that the venture—if it goes—will be a definite boon to St. Cloud . . .

Skiing is a good, clean, exhilarating outdoor sport for young and old, girl and boy, man and wife and good facilities for it should warrant encouragement. . . .
