

Here's a List of Numerous Skiing Areas

By JIMMY JOHNSTON
Minneapolis Tribune Staff Writer

The number of ski areas in this part of the midwest has grown rapidly this year. And this year is no exception.

Recent additions include a new area at Indian Lake, an additional mountain at 11500 ft. in Upper Michigan, and a vertical rise of 400 feet and more at 11500 ft. in Wisconsin.

Johnston lists T. B. and Camp 10, near Rose-land, Wis., named for an old logging camp site and providing rope tows and a T-bar, are welcome additions to an already impressive list of popular ski areas.

With their climate generally clear, the low mountains in the area can be right in to ski and the coffee houses and the better some statistics of most of the ski areas within reach of the Twin Cities together with our annual ski map giving their approximate locations.

You may not have time to ski them all this season, but you should have a lot of fun trying most of them.

Johnson Beats Tonka Sextet 6-1

St. Paul Johnson spotted Minnesota an opening goal and then outplayed the Lake Superior conference basketball winners, Monmouth led 41-36 in the high school hockey pre-arranged game Saturday night at Williams arena.

Some Skidoo squad Johnson's goal at 2:47 on a pass from Herb Schmitt, but Dick Ackerson tied it for Johnson at 11:05.

Johnson added two more goals in the second period and three in the third.
