

homes were available.

Missouri's only ski run, located in Hidden Valley near Pacific, was opened during the recent frigid weather when 60 skiers used its snow-covered facilities. The ski resort is said to be the only one of its kind within a radius of 400 miles. The club is owned by a St. Louis group and is managed by Denis Zavadil. Snow machines will be installed next year to make artificial snow.