Ferry Hill Sports Center Opens Sunday

The official opening of the new and scenic Winter Sports Center will take place Sunday, January 29th, at the Ferry Hill Center two miles west of Okee at the junction of Highways 113 and V. A ski-tow, a remodeled farm home as a warming house, a variety of sliding hills, ski and hiking trails, all in a setting of scenic beauty are the outstanding attractions. This ski center is located on one of the highest hills in south-central Wisconsin, overlooking beautiful Lake Wisconsin, with nearby unusual landscapes and the Baraboo bluffs. The hill is directly south of the Merrimac ferry and west of the village of Okee. There is adequate parking space on the crest of the hill where spectators may see the activities on the hill and in the snow bowl and admire the view for miles around.

Sunday, the 29th, will be devoted to test runs on the sliding courses and trial runs on the ski-tow. All facilities, including the ski-tow, will be free to the skiers and the public. Parking also will be free. Other sliding courses, for tobogganing, sleds, and bumps sliding are not yet ready but will be installed later.

The grand opening of the Center will take place a week later, on Sunday, Feb. 5th, with a special program of competitions. Five, of a series of winter sports activity queens, will be selected. For this first Sunday they will be queens of cross-country skiing, bob-sledding, speed-skating, ice boating, and the dog derby. Any woman from any place, 18 to 28 years of age, single
