Many Skiers Flock To Neighboring Hills For First Run of Winter

Old Man Winter gave the skiing enthusiasts a break this week end and provided enough snow for all the hills in the neighboring area to operate at full strength. The three principal ski centers in the area, Elpa Lodge, Powder Hill and Timmer's, were jammed with humanity both Saturday and Sunday and the snow really flew in all directions.

Approximately 400 skiers took advantage of the two tows and 1,500 feet of slope at Elpa Lodge over the week end with fans from as far as Chicago having their ups and downs on the fast surfaces. About a foot of well packed snow made the course exceptionally swift.

At Powder Hill, Marquette students found the snow conditions the same and well over 300 university ski club members were on hand to use the facilities.
